

Ms. Ivy Graham

Counselor

I am originally from Tulsa but spent the past 15 years in New Mexico. I recently returned home and love being back where it's green and full of lakes. This is my 12th year teaching high school science. Aside from coursework in education, I have an academic background in Geology and Chemistry—rocks are neat! I have taught physics, chemistry, physical science and biology. In my free time I like traveling to new places to see the sights and try new foods. I also spend time volunteering with local animal rescue and singing in a community choir. I love staying active, whether it's sand volleyball, roller-skating or hiking, but science is my passion. I enjoy hiking and spending time in nature. I love to learn new things and see how the natural world works. I especially enjoy teaching science to others and discussing all matters philosophical.
